At the Toy Shop

Written by Vicky Shipton

Our toy shop

On Saturday morning we go to the toy shop in our town. We like to look at all the toys.

Our toy shop has got many toys for boys and girls.

Looking inside

We enjoy looking around the shop.
There are so many toys!

It is my sister Jen's birthday today.
She has got ten pounds to spend.

Loud sounds

I have found a toy drum.
The sound is very loud!

Destroy! Destroy!

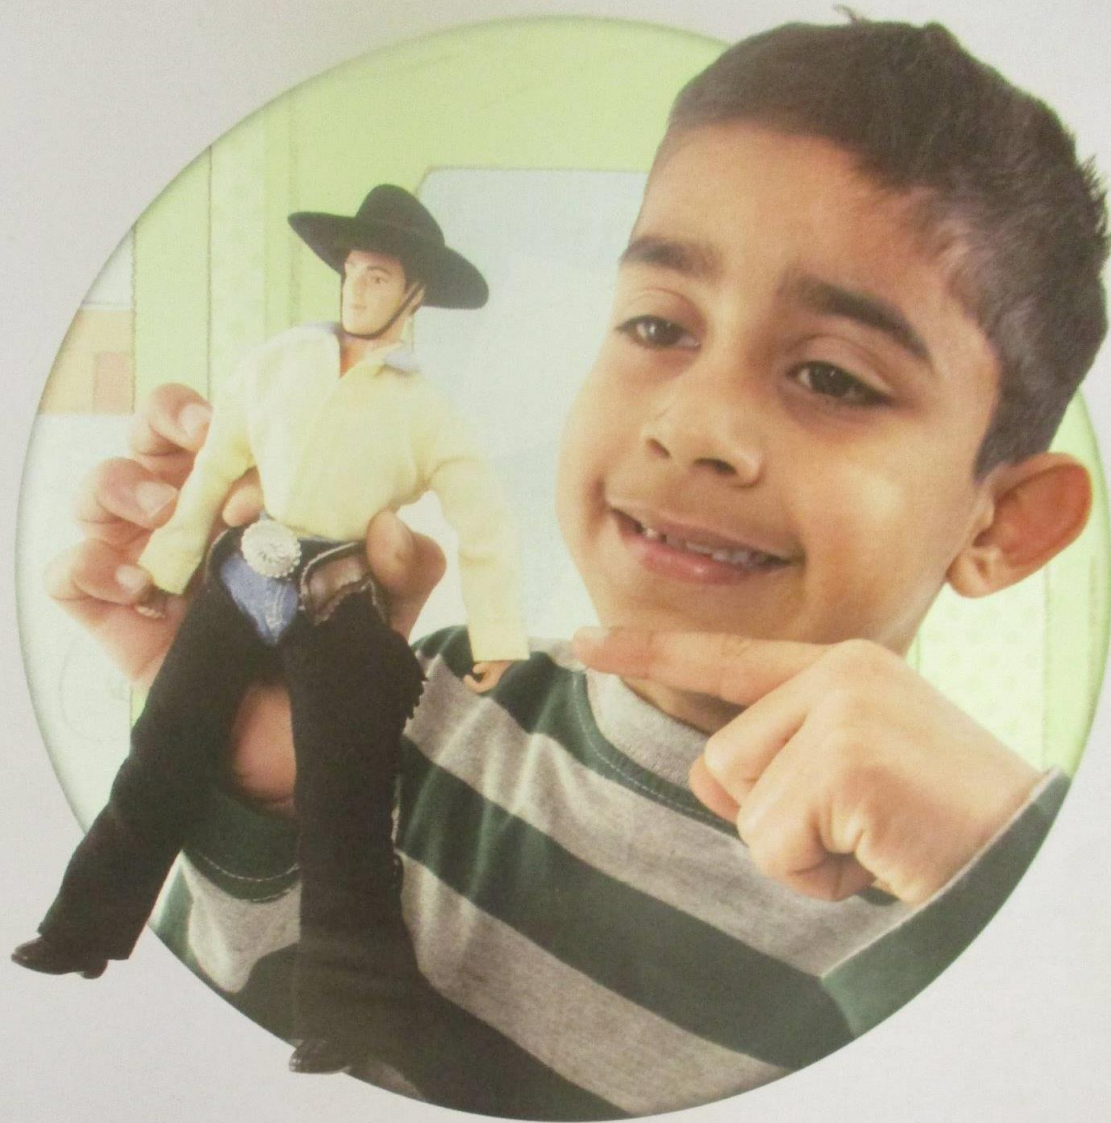

I have found a toy robot.
It makes many sounds.

Different dolls

Hello!

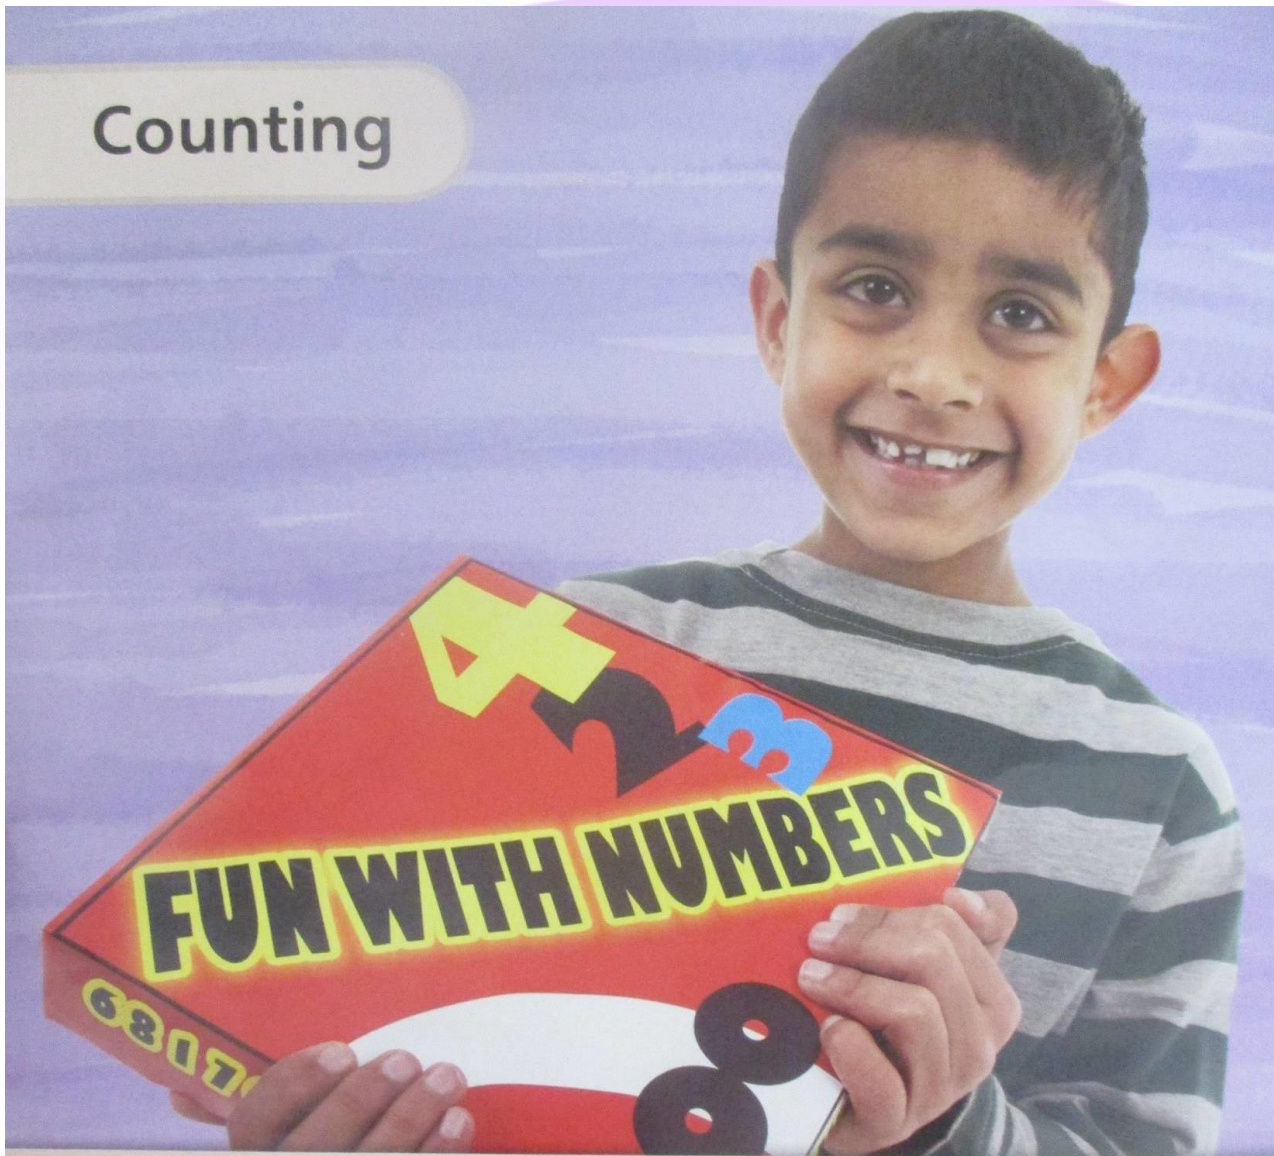

Jen is looking at a doll in a yellow outfit. It makes a sound when you press the button.

I am looking at a different doll. It has got a cowboy hat and cowboy trousers.

Counting

Now I am looking at a numbers game.
It helps you to count and do sums.

Our dad has found a toy fairground.
Look at the big wheel going round and round. Count the lights!

Harry Hound

Jen sees a toy dog. His name is Harry Hound. He has big, brown ears.

Jen takes Harry Hound to the counter.
She hands her pounds to the lady behind the counter.

“Can I get a toy?” I ask Dad. “Can I get the cowboy?”

“Not now,” says Dad.

Then I remember. My birthday is in only three weeks! I am counting the days.

It is my birthday.
I have got the cowboy!
